CROWN PRINCESS OF JAPAN POPULAR

Regarded by Nation as Personification of Beauty, Virtue, and Love.

Evansville—Among those from out of town who were here to attend the funeral of Berle Ahara, Wednesday, were his brother, Hugh, Beloit; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ahara, Misaki, Mokawa; Theodore Ahara, Peoria, Ill.; Mrs. Elmer Peuch and two sons, Edgerton; Messrs. Murphy and Mooshouse from Marshall Field department; where Mr. Ahara worked; his widow, Mrs. J. W. Kynard, Mrs. W. M. Hill, Chicago; Mrs. Babbitt; Mrs. George Drummond and David Drummond, Janesville. Two large floral pieces were sent from Chicago, one from Marshall Field and one from the Knights of Pythias, of which he was a member, besides flowers from Beloit, Janesville and Edgerton.

Rock county is stated to obtain 750 contracts and the committee is confident 2,000 will be obtained when the drive is completed. The campaign thus far has been a decided success.

There is assurance that 300 will be signed in the Beloit district and on Wednesday a check showed 500 contracts to the county with many campers to return.

On Wednesday evening the campaign meeting at the Avon, meeting on Wednesday night, and many farmers declared they would sign later after they had more opportunity of studying the new contract.

503 Are Signed

The check shows 80 in Evansville, 60 in Orfordville with a good number in Clinton. The Avon district is to be covered next week. Leaders meet Thursday morning and started the campaign meeting. There are 1,000 working in the section with George Hall as committee chairman.

There are four districts still to be covered, Footville, Janesville, Milton Junction and Shipperville. The county committee and representatives from these districts will meet in Janesville August 1 to make plans for the final drives to obtain the 1,000 signatures. The Atton district has been absorbed in the Beloit district and Janesville districts for the campaign.

The first bonds to be issued to pay the back month due have been printed and will soon be distributed, according to R. K. Overton.

Seek New Manager

The committee of nine is now seeking a new general manager competent to handle the marketing problem in the Chicago dairy district. This manager is to put the office in time to take full charge of the contracts are brought into effect.

The campaign has been started in Green county with success, signs being obtained at a rapid pace.

The first test has been applied to the "service charge" feature of the new contract whereby the pool receives more than the non-pooler in Beloit and attorneys upheld this important provision put by Attorney General Spangler. The new contract is to be issued to the marketing company organization just after aiding in the organization work for the Wisconsin tobacco pool.

PADEREWSKI WILL RETURN TO MUSIC

Polish Pianist Through with Politics: Will Tour America.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris.—Ignace J. Paderewski has decided definitely his country is unwilling to accept his political services further. It was learned here. He will return to the United States in November to fill several concert engagements.

Paderewski has done no professional work for five years. During this time he has been completely absorbed in patriotic efforts in Poland. In Genoa, as Polish representative of the League of Nations and in America. He left Thursday for Switzerland.

The former Polish premier does not disguise his feelings on the Polish situation. He shows great sorrow for the condition of his country. His friends have endeavored to point out to him that he is the most distinguished citizen in Poland and that he ought to be able to serve his native land, especially in foreign affairs. Paderewski told his friends that the majority of his countrymen apparently did not think he could serve Poland and he was returning to his

Health Show at Fair Will Boost Work in County

That the county health exhibit of this year's Janesville Fair and Livestock exposition, Aug. 9, 10 and 11, will be of unusual magnitude, is evidenced by the elaborate preparations being made.

The health exhibit will be under direction of Miss Ann Lautscher, county nurse. It will be housed in the educational building. Recognizing the importance of public health work and with a desire to further its advancement the fair management offers an unusually large number of prizes. Babies and children will be given thorough examinations and prizes awarded for the healthiest in the respective classes.

The exhibit will stand with posters and literature showing how to combat communicable diseases such as measles, scarlet fever, and diphtheria. Instructing talks and health demonstrations will be given daily.

Entries in the health exhibit of the fair will be free the only requirement being that all must be residents of Rock county. Entries for all classes have the health examination. The close at 6 p. m. Monday, Aug. 11. The health examination entries will close Thursday, Aug. 10, 6 p. m.

The exhibit will be divided into four classes: babies and children; posters; health exhibit and miscellane-

Rothschild Sued by French Woman

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York.—James Henri De Rothschild, son of Baron Henri De Rothschild, head of the famous Rothschild family of France, was sued for $500,000 damages in a state supreme court Wednesday by Marie Porquet, a French girl, who alleges she came to the U. S. last spring on his promise to marry her and that he since has refused to do so. A statement issued by the baron's counsel, Edgar T. Brackett, declares the French nobleman "denies most strenuously the statement of the plaintiff and says the claim that he ever promised to contemplate marrying her is absurd."

The baron is now in Paris. The accident was suffered on him here, at 575 Park Avenue, June 27. M. De Rothschild, according to Mme. Porquet's attorneys, is the eldest son of Baron Henri De Rothschild, and is 27 years old. He is unmarried and was widely entertained when he came to the United States in March for a tour of this country.

Mme. Porquet is now in New York.

She is the widow of James

ROCK COUNTY SHOW HERDS FOR CIRCUIT

Seek Fund to Push Showing Stock to Win Sweepstakes Banner Again.

Rock county breeders will make an organized attempt to again win the Wisconsin sweepstakes banner at the state fair with a county exhibit of livestock and agricultural products. The cream of the live-stock shown at the Janesville fair from county herds not on exhibition will be selected and sent first to the Dane county fair at Madison and then to Milwaukee. Tentative plans are that from 15 to 18 cars of stock will be shipped to the state fair representing Rock county in addition to the crop exhibits. The organization of the county show herds will not interfere with the efforts of the big breeders having entire herds to show, but it is hoped to send a large delegation from here. The picture will be repeated the following Tuesday.

It was made for the recent national convention, where it was enthusiastically received.

The local Y. W. C. A. will provide transportation to those who have none. These persons are asked to call the association rooms between 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. and give their names. No admission is charged for the picture. It is not a new film, but a story occupying five reels.

INDIANA GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES STATE WILL MINE COAL

Federation officials in Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois reported a shortage of coal. It was said by the officials in the various states that serious shortage was likely to continue.

In Wisconsin it was declared farm shipments were limited this season and no car shortage had been felt in any or all classes.

The whole idea, it is explained, is to put on display the farm products of Rock county in an organized and systematic manner. Such a plan, it is pointed out, enables every breeder having quality stock to show, whether he has one animal or a sufficient number to fill the classes, from 15 to 18 entries.

The health of the animals selected will be passed on by Dr. Arthur Kiplans, according to the agreement. Competent show men and caretakers will be obtained to care for the stock enroute and at the fairs and the representatives of the breeders and associations act as a board of directors having charge of the venture.

Combines Exhibits

A method is to be worked out for pooling the winnings in some manner to defray expenses of the county exhibit.

Whether a breeder shows individually or with the group it is the plan to combine all the exhibits at the state fair in an advertising campaign for Rock county.

The show here will probably be made up of the following breeds: Milkings and beef Shorthorns, Polled Durham and Herefords; Guernseys, Holsteins, Brown Swiss and Jerseys; Durro-Jersey swine, Poland-China, Chester-Whites with prospects for Berkshires and Hampshire swine, horses and sheep. Evansville sheep breeders, while planning to send flocks on several circuits endorsed the county advertising plan.

"It is a splendid plan to get our stock before the people," declared W. G. Miles, Evansville. "The main problem in the livestock business is to concentrate attention of the public on a certain district. We certainly have got the livestock here."

Invest in Showing

"You cannot sell cattle now out behind the haystacks, you have got to show them," urged Ray Bovine, breeders of champion Durhams. He related an incident of buyers from Mississippi coming here to purchase several head and their attention had been attracted to the county by seeing the stock at the Janesville fair.

The county show herd idea of taking a large variety of stock and farm products and uniting them to a county exhibit is declared to be original and to attract attention. The winners in the Janesville fair will be selected in most instances for the reason the same judges here will also judge in Milwaukee. It will be a significant honor for any breeder to have an animal in the county show herd.

A record breaking exhibit of livestock is expected at the Janesville fair and later at the county fair in Evansville. The interest in showing stock has increased greatly during the last year. Following the Milwaukee fair in the stock exhibit makes a creditable showing, it will be up to the directors handling the show to decide what additional fairs are to be visited.

The general manager to have charge of the entire exhibit to be selected at a later meeting and committees named to take charge of the detail work.

Bend every energy to finish the high school building so it may be used before the end of 1922. With the completion the problem of a community center will be solved.

Janesville needs and should have a hotel suitable for the public. That will be especially true when the high school is completed and the auditorium is available for the largest conventions.

Finish the paving of Janesville streets.

That can be done by the necessary ren-

THE WISCONSIN PRESS SPEAKS OUT.

Challenging the senior senator of the state for his insult to the press in his charge that the sum of $250,000,000 in British gold was used to corrupt the press and purchase it during the war, the Wisconsin Press association has demanded that he either prove the statement or retract it. There is nothing specific in his charge—just a statement. That story has been repeated and it was at first and has continued to be so palpably a lie that no one has paid attention to it, but now that it has been given utterance over and over again in the Wisconsin primary campaign by both the radical-socialist candidate for the senate and his nominee for governor, the Wisconsin Press association made up of the weekly newspapers of the state, feels that the time has passed to rest under the repetition of the insult. Of course there will be no proof forthcoming. There will be only further repetition. The Press Association will find that the man who makes the charges will simply go on with his gratuitous insults to a great established business and safe under the protection of his generalities will get away with it.

There are some of the finest men in Wisconsin in that association—men of standing and integrity, men of force and action, men and women too who have been devoting their lives to the printing news and making a good newspaper for the community, and now they are to be classed as bribe takers and crooks because it suits a political purpose.

The latest Limericks seem to be written with a

BANKING IN THE OLD TRUNK.

Much of the pugnacity of the shock that an elderly lady should be beaten by thugs and an amount of money said to be anywhere from $20,- $40,000 in silver and gold stolen from the bottom of an old trunk is lost after one learns of the peculiarities of the family. During the war this same hoarding was going on and the family refused to buy Liberty bonds or make any other sacrifices or investments in the war activities.

But that is not the lesson to be learned from the theft of the life savings of the family in Crawford county. Dollar by dollar the hoard was accumulated, the money laid away to rust, earning no interest and adding nothing to itself—so much dross and junk, so far as the owners were concerned. The owners were afraid of banks. They trusted no one. It is not so much the value of the gold and silver but the fact that they possessed it which gave them whatever pleasure came from this sum of money in the house.

If the $20,000 had been placed in the bank it would have been more than $20,000 at the end of the year. It would have enabled the bank to loan $1,000 each to 20 farmers who could have added to the production and wealth of the state and if turned over once a week during the year it was in circulation it would have amounted to a million dollars in business. It will get into circulation now since it has come into the possession of thieves. Merely hoarding money, saving down the actual coin is no evidence of thrift or saving or of good business judgment.

It is about time for some one to phone the aching void to locate Joe Tumulty.

RESPONSE TO THE TORNADO FUND.

Janesville is responding to the appeal for funds for the tornado sufferers in the northwestern part of the state. There ought to be a good sized fund raised here. It is yet time to donate something to the several hundred homeless families in Dunn,

St. Croix and other counties. Send it to the Gazette for transmission to the state, the custodian of the fund.

THE VOTE FOR McHENRY.

The Honorable A. C. McHenry just arrived un-state capitol in time to get in the running as a candidate for governor. The place in the sun of the campaign of the mayor of Oshkosh is difficult to analyze. He is distinctly and openly for booze. He wants wine and beer and does not straddle over that issue. His will be a protest vote. Those who vote for him are represented in the demand for a return to the pre-Volstead days.

They may not expect to elect him but they will vote for him as the one way of securing a definite protest against prohibition. How many there are in the state who will go into the republican primary and want to make such a protest is problematical but whatever vote he gets will be safely counted for that protest. With Morgan plainly stating that there can be no legislation by the state that will change the constitutional amend-

Lo, the Poor Millionaire.

By FREDERIC A. HASKIN

Washington—The term millionaire may mean one thing or it may mean another. To the average person a millionaire is a man who is the fortunate possessor of $1,000,000. To some of those who study the statistics of income published by the internal revenue bureau of the treasury, a millionaire is not one who possesses merely $1,000,000 but one who has an income of $1,000,000 a year or more.

The vicissitudes of these super-millionaires, most of them created by the war, is an interesting story. There may be some fiction in it also. It is difficult to determine whether the statistics reflect actual vicissitudes of fortune or jugglery of figures, but the figures must be taken at their face value. If that be true, the super-millionaires of the United States came and went in the war years as summer insects come and go, but there are many still buzzing around.

In 1914 there were 50 persons in the United States who reported incomes of $1,000,000 a year or more. The internal revenue bureau has no higher classification than this, but it is said that if the classifications were carried upward, it would be found that there are incomes of $1,000,000 a year and more.

By 1915 the crop of super-millionaires had doubled. In 1916 the number had reached 206. This was the peak. In 1917 the figures had fallen to 141; but in 1918 it was 67; in 1919, 65; and in 1920 there were but 33 Americans with incomes of $1,000,000 a year or over.

Observers of these matters see a coincidence in the fact that the great incomes began to dwindle in the same year the United States entered the war and laid heavy taxes and surtaxes on incomes. The figures are supposed to give, not the taxable income merely, but the total net income. That is, these amounts have been returned whether taxable or not. The point has been made that the great incomes did not actually fall off when the United States entered the war, so sharply as has been indicated, but that, by some mysterious manipulation, they were kept out of the returns. That may be fact and it may be that the beneficiaries of these vast incomes realized that a large proportion of their funds would be taken by the income tax collector, began in 1915 to distribute their property to heirs or to dissipate it in other ways.

If the normal definition of a millionaire is used, the statistics are astounding. Assuming that a millionaire is one who has an estate worth $1,000,000, the numbers can be arrived at by assuming that each receives an income of 10 per cent on his fortune. This would be at the rate of $100,000 a year. In 1914, the number of persons having incomes of $100,000 a year was 2,288. Add the 60 super-millionaires and a grand total of 2,348 is obtained. This was the year in which the European war broke out. There were in 1915 some 3,794 of them and with the super-millionaires added a grand total of 3,824. The figures for 1916 show 6,427 with 206 super-millionaires to add, giving a grand total of 6,633. In 1917 the number was 6,523 and with the super-millionaires 6,664. This is the high tide for the super-millionaires was 1916, when there were 206. In 1917 there were but 141. But the classes ranging down to the single-millionaires reached their zenith in 1918. In 1918 there were 4,422 normal millionaires and 67 super-millionaires or a total of 4,489; in 1919, there were 5,461 normal millionaires and 65 super-millionaires or a total of 5,526; in 1920 there were 3,616 normal millionaires and 33 super-millionaires or a total of 3,649. Doubtless many possessors of $1,000,000 a year have been added to the total. This classification be included, the total number of millionaires is more than doubled.

Who's Who Today

HERBERT C. HOOVER.

Herbert Clark Hoover, secretary of commerce and labor in President Harding's cabinet, and United States food administrator now, has turned his hand to developing the nation's coal supply during the war.

Hoover has devised a plan whereby the departments of commerce, and labor and justice will cooperate so that control of prices and distribution can be effected.

The plan in general is to pool all coal mined, to distribute the coal in which it is to be carried, and to prorate the supply of fuel among public utilities. Industries producing necessities will be expected to co-operate.

Hoover stepped into the HERBERT HOOVER limelight during the early part of the war when he became chairman of the American relief committee in London. Later he supervised the distribution of food to the Belgians by the American relief committee.

Hoover, an engineer by profession, is more or less a soldier of fortune. He has directed mines in Nevada, California, Australia, India and China.

While in China in 1900 Hoover assisted in the defense of Tientsin during the Boxer uprising.

What horrible and mysterious power was forcing the three Drake brothers, HOBOART, Wall Street lawyer, ROBERT, eminent scientist, and ANDREW, who had recently returned from Australia, to place themselves in ridiculous situations? Some power had forced Hoboart to deliver a mock address to the public, and he had agreed to let Andrew sit on the parlor floor and play with toys. The three appear terror-stricken, and without knowledge.

PATRICIA DRAKE, daughter of Hoboart, was shocked.

OWEN MILES, detective sergeant, and his colleague, SCOTTIE MCREADY, as investigator, Miles was employed in a housewife and Scottie, bartender, became involved in a series of mysterious events. Patricia suddenly disappears—an event which Miles cannot understand as he and Patricia are in the habit of talking freely to each other, and know of the attempt of her spinster aunt, MISS JERUSAH DRAKE, to break up her love affair with Richard Kent, who has been the cause. Miles is suddenly summoned by Hoboart, Drake.

CHAPTER XI.

The result of a hasty conference was that Sergeant Miles should engage a friend, Zorn, a private detective, to work out the disappearance of Patricia. This would enable Miles to remain at Brookfield in his capacity of houseman and, unknown to Hoboart, keep in touch with Patricia's disappearance.

"Before Zorn arrives, Mr. Walls," remarked Miles, "I wish you would tell me something about the early history of the family. What was the original sum which each of them inherited? From whence did it come?"

"From a distant cousin of their mother in England. He had owned or been interested in a South African diamond mine, if I remember correctly, and died leaving no heirs. I was not the attorney for the family at the time, but later, when Hoboart and then Patricia placed pictures of their inheritance in their hands for insurance, I learned that they had never seen this cousin but had kept up a desultory sort of correspondence with him since their mother's death

"MAKES TABLE TALK BRIGHT."

MIND-READING SURPRISE

When he replies in the affirmative, he is brought up to ask someone to write secretly a few words on a piece of paper. Looking into the writer's eyes, as though you were reading his thoughts, write a few words on another slip and then ask him if he remembers what he wrote.

When he replies in the affirmative, you remark that you have "written exactly the same." Of course, everyone will be compelled to compare the two papers to test your accuracy as a medium, and when they are shown, much to their amusement they find written on your slip, the three words "exactly the same."

Pineapple and Cherry Salad—To one pineapple cut in pieces add one-quarter cup as much finely cut lettuce and one-half cup stoned cherries. Decorate with nuts and cherries, serve with mayonnaise.

Fruit Punch—Juice of three oranges, juice of two lemons, one quart water, one and one-half cups grape or berry juice, one banana, one and one-half cups sugar. Mix orange and lemon juice, water and grape (or any favorite juice) and sugar, add banana, serve cold. This amount makes ten glasses.

Eaten Potato—Fill a greased one-and-a-half full of sliced potatoes. Season with salt and a little onion. Sprinkle with flour and add a few small pieces of ham laced with butter. Cover with milk and bake until potatoes are tender. Allow top to brown before removing from oven.

Bread Pudding—Soak one cup bread

"But what has all this to do with the test you propose making? What has it to do with Patricia's warning about a tattooed arm?"

Miles was saved the necessity of a reply by the entrance of the servant who announced Mr. David Zorn. The latter proved to be the half-naked, immaculately attired young man with a tattooed arm, who had been watching in his sleepy blue eyes.

"Sorry I could not get here before Sergeant. You mentioned a certain little proposition over the phone."

"To be brief, Mr. Zorn, a young lady of eighteen, who lives with her father, a widower, and two brothers or uncles in a Long Island suburb has left her home under mysterious circumstances in which, however, we are satisfied no romance is involved. Her father has asked me to engage a private detective to locate her, but we are, at the request of the young lady herself and without his knowledge, as well as that of his sister or brothers, investigating over the telephone which threatens them. The position which Sergeant Miles and I have taken is this: the young lady must be located at the earliest possible moment but not disturbed. If she is in safe hands, and we do not want her father informed of her whereabouts, although he must be persuaded up to take no

GRAIN

Chicago Review.

Chicago grain markets together with absence of speculative buying led to early downturns in the price of wheat Thursday, notwithstanding a little firmness at the start. The transaction gains and losses were not as large as those at Liverpool. The opening which varied from $1 to 10¢ higher with Sept. $1.015@1.015 and Dec. $1.005@1.010, was followed by a slight further rise and then a setback to well below yesterday's finish.

Announcement of export sales totaling 20,000 bushels caused a market to develop in strength during the last half of the board of trade session. About 1,500,000 bushels of the total was bought for shipment from the Gulf ports. The clearing was from 1¢ to 10¢ higher with Sept. $1.015@1.015 and Dec. $1.010@1.010.

Later on exporters bought wheat steadily on all dips in prices and there was a moderate advance in consequence.

Corn was easier with wheat. Dec. 10, 1.015; Jan. 1.015; Feb. 1.015.

Dec. 10, 1.015; Jan. 1.015.

Provisions were weak.

SOUTH AMERICA IN NEW, BETTER ERASettlement of Taena-Arica Controversy Paves Way to Solidarity.

Boston.—A parallel to the Harvard scholarships is seen in the establishment, through the Associated Harvard Club, of scholarships for the coming year to send to Harvard one boy from Argentina and one from Mexico. The scholarships have been made available through the generosity of members of the Harvard Club of New York, and they will be awarded respectively by the Harvard Club of Buenos Aires and the Harvard Club of Mexico.

The Harvard men at Buenos Aires already have selected their scholarship holder.

Find Young Hustlers
One of the members found recently, in the country in the south part of Argentina which is devoted partly to sugar plantations, two young brothers of English descent named Beale, one of whom was 17 and the other 17. The elder Beale had made a moving picture camera out of the crude material that he could pick up locally and then had made for himself a projector. It is said that the pictures produced were just as good as those shown in any cinema house in Argentina.

The younger Beale had become interested in locomotives. He saw in an English engineering magazine a picture of two Mogul locomotives of a type not used in Argentina. When he was 15 years old he started out to make the necessary machinery to make the parts for these locomotives. He built a lathe and a small furnace by which he cast and machined the cylinders and the other parts. Now he has two working models of Mogul locomotives, built entirely from the pictures in the magazine, each six feet long, and he has made them run under his own power.

Will Be Engineer
The elder Beale boy is to be awarded one of the new Harvard scholarships, and plans to enter Harvard this autumn. He will probably register in the Engineering school.

The scholarship contributed to the Harvard Club of Mexico by the Associated Harvard Club was described by the secretary as that body as "only a small token of our appreciation to those who reciprocate" for the services done by the National University of Mexico in arranging for free summer courses for American students and teachers.

DEMAND GERMANS
DESTROY EMBRYO
FORTRESS ON CANALIn Associated Press
Paris.—The council of ambassadors has decided to send a sharp note to the German government demanding the immediate destruction of the fire control and range finding school which the German naval authorities have quietly established at a strategic point on the Kiel canal. Allied expert opinion has decided the school, convertible into a fort commanding the entrance to the canal, is a serious threat to the Allies. The report of the school to the council, learned it, the most important of the long series of violations of the naval terms of the treaty of Versailles on the part of Germany.YELLOW CAB SERVICE

Mrs. Edna Marie Karpen.

Chicago.—Rum and romance make a drink too heady for domestic happiness.

That is the opinion of Mrs. Karpen, 19, a young bride, after less than six months of married life.

She married Karpen, a wealthy young man about the town, in Crown Point, Ind., in February.

Now she is progressing him in criminal court here on charges of cruelty and non support.

"I loved Ben," she said. "I love him yet and I am positive that our marriage would have been happy if he hadn't been for whiskey, gin and wine always handy to young men with plenty of money."

When Karpen returned here after his marriage, he caused a small commotion appearing at his dad's place of business ready for work. In fact it was almost a riot for shortly before he had been buried in the casket of his mother. And he and his mother had never been on even speaking terms.

He'd walked me go out on wild parties with him," Mrs. Karpen continued, and he took me into some of the worst places.

"Often he beat me but always he would come to reform and I would forgive him."

"He treated me as he might treat anything he owned—a bit of jewelry, a flashy new car. I was something to show off when he felt like showing off. I was no more to him than the three Stooges he lost shooting craps."

I had married him hoping that we would have a happy life, but he was drawn into the game of the bright lights and my life has been a nightmare."

"I've had everything I wanted, everything a girl could buy. I have had a lot to do with many girls, especially because they know nothing about it. But it doesn't mean anything but heartaches and if they take a lesson from my case I feel much better for it."

FIVE STATES SHOWN IN MOTOUR TRAFFIC

Practically all tourists registering at the House by the Side of the Road recently have been from Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and Illinois. Of the 21 who registered Tuesday, three were from Minnesota, five from Wisconsin, ten from Illinois, two from Michigan and one from Indiana. The majority were headed for Wisconsin, cutting grounds, chiefly lakes.

Tecnologia, Honduras.—The Rockefeller Institution has opened a branch in Tegucigalpa. Its activities will be devoted largely to the "hook worm" diseases. The office is in charge of Dr. Bruce D. Wilson, an American physician.

O, SKIN-NAY, BIG PEE-RADE, FRIDAY
"Floats," Athletics, Everything
at Playgrounds Spectacle.

Friday is Parade day at the Janesville playgrounds. The children are now decorating wagons, wheelbarrows, pushmobiles and all contrivances to march in the parades to be held at each playground in the afternoon. Besides this feature, each playground will have some tournaments or meet exemplifying playground activities. Parents are cordially invited to attend.

The Adams school will hold the first of a series of graded track-meets, Friday afternoon, in conjunction with the parade. It is planned to have one of those each week, under the auspices of the Parent-teacher association, which at the end of the season will award a pennant to the class having the largest attendance at all the meets. Following are some of the events that will be held.

For boys—20, 25, 30, 45, 60 and 75 yard dashes; baseball and baseball throws; one-legged race; standing broad jump; backward running race; hop, skip and jump; high jump; running high jump; the last for high school boys. All the boys' and the girls' events will be entered according to their grades.

For girls—Dashes from 15 yards up to 60 yards; bean bag relay; bean bag catch; volley ball; throw; bean bag throw; heel and toe race; running broad jumps; and relay races, for distance.

Following the parade and "floats," the playground committee of the Parent-Teacher association will serve refreshments free to all participants.

CHURCH BORROWS
STILL; THE KICK
IS PROMISED, TOO

A full-fledged moonshining still will be on public exhibition Sunday night, and further, will be used with permission from Chief Charles Newman.

No, it is not the meeting night of the Moonshiners' union. The still will be seen at the Methodist church and not in any of the dives of Janesville, and under.

The still, Charles E. Coon's, will preach on prohibition and the evils of liquor. He thought a real still would make his sermon more interesting so he visited Chief Charles Newman and secured permission to borrow one of the stills that was in captivity at the police station.

It is a still that has seen active service, but Mr. Coon's still, all who come to see them, pads and pencil here, for no copying of the design will be allowed. He also states if anybody in the audience should recognize the still, it will be best to keep quiet about it, as it is one that was captured in a raid by the police force.

This sermon is one of a series that Mr. Coon is giving at present day conditions, an attempt to give the tendency for the moral troubles that divide the nation.

fice is in charge of Dr. Bruce D. Wilson, an American physician.

"Where do the mosquitoes go in the wintertime?" Yes, that's food for thought, but more timely is the quandary which arises from where all the freckles go in the good old summer time?

"Does Marlie love her?" Cleo, with her nicey freckles?"

And Marlie reassured her that, he hadn't been cheating, on her while she was away (cause he replied):

"Does I, love her? M-m! Daddy, lemme seal those cutey speckles with a half a hundred shekels."

If freckles only played the trump card instead of tan! If—but it's can't remove freckles. So just because a temporal Egyptian queen or some of our other historic forebears preferred tan to freckles, doesn't mean the act of freckles for youthful skins react more readily to sun and

Once upon a time—now you know that this is only a story—a little

Irish girl labored diligently to remove a saucy row of freckles which bridged her little pug nose. Her discomfiture was rewarded and the little nose called forth tender, perhaps a little rosy, but sans freckles.

The stalwart lad for whom the transformation was brought about was so sad when he spied his coleen without her freckles that he said:

"Why Kitty Casey, you little freckles were as much a part of you as your name."

And she said that in that case, she guessed she would have to change her name—but this all took place on the island of Hawa Hawa!
